NEW YORK 32, N.Y.

January 2, 1956

Mr. Eric P. Newman
Edison Brothers Stores, Inc.
400 Washington Avenue
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Mr. Newman:

On the 16th of April, 1958, the American Numismatic Society will celebrate the hundredth anniversary of its founding. The Society has decided to mark this occasion by the publication of a four volume work containing about fifty articles on numismatic subjects. It is the hope of the Society that distinguished colleagues throughout the world will participate in the writing of this publication together with members of the Society's Council and its curatorial staff.

The Society would feel greatly honored if it could count on you to contribute an article to this centennial publication, possibly in the field of American coins. Some details of our plans are given on the enclosed sheet.

I would appreciate having your answer in principle as soon as possible.

Yours very truly,

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY

CENTENNIAL PUBLICATION

The Centennial Publication is planned as a four volume work, each volume containing about 250 pages. The first two volumes will be devoted to Methodology, and Greek and Roman numismatics. The third will deal with Byzantine, Mediaeval and Oriental coins, and in the fourth Renaissance, Modern and American coins, and medals, will be treated.

Each contributor is invited to submit an article of not more than twenty pages, to be printed in the format of the Society's NUMISMATIC STUDIES (19.5 x 27 cm), the average page of which contains about 3200 printed characters (i.e., 600 words in English). Normally one plate is envisaged for each article.

The manuscript may be written in English, French, German, Italian or Spanish. It is requested that it be sent typewritten, double-spaced, to the Chief Editor, Professor Harald Ingholt, Box 2146, Yale Station, New Haven, Conn., to whom all questions of possible additional illustrative material and other queries should be addressed. Notes should be numbered consecutively and typed, double-spaced, apart from the body of the article.

Each author will receive a complete set of the Centennial Publication and twenty-five reprints of his article. Up to seventy-five additional reprints will be supplied at cost, if the Editor is notified before the volumes go to press. The authors will receive one proof; the second and final proof will be read by members of the curatorial staff of the Society and the Editor.

The manuscripts should be in the hands of the Editor at the latest by January 1st, 1957, preferably earlier.

Mr. Louis C. West, President
The American Numismatic Society
Broadway between 155th and 156th Streets
New York 32, New York

Dear Mr. West:

I will certainly be glad to cooperate in writing an article for your 100th anniversary publication and the subject will be in the American Colonial field. I have a lengthy monograph in process at the present time on early copper coinage and now have ready for publication an article on counterfeit Continental currency. I will probably pick some new subject in the field for the article for your publication.

I certainly believe that the Centennial publications will be a great tribute to the work of the Society.

I do wish to make a suggestion, however. One of the great needs, as you well know, in numismatics, is a master index covering numismatic publications particularly worthwhile articles in magazines. Your organization has kept up currently with this subject but the whole field requires a master index with respect to the subject matter. A person doing numismatic research today has a very difficult time finding other material written on the particular subject in which he is interested.

Good luck on this exciting endeavor!

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Newman

Do you think that you could send me the article for the Centennial Publication of the American Numismatic Society by February 15, or at the latest by March 1st?

I would like very much to have most of the manuscripts in hand at least by the latter date.

With the best wishes for the new year I am sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Ingoldt:

Thank you for your letter of January 20, 1957 with respect to the Centennial publication of the American Numismatic Society. I originally was asked, by a letter from Mr. Mast, to write an article, on January 2, 1956, and indicated I would do so by letter of January 12, 1956. During the intervening year I heard nothing further with respect to the publication and would wish to ask a few more questions prior to submission of an article.

I believe my article will involve the discovery of a new coin of early America and its significance in interpreting the Vermont and New York coinage. The instructions indicated that only one plate is contemplated for each article and I want to know if this is a firm policy or whether this could be enlarged. While I am satisfied that I can keep within the 20-page limitation on the memo, it does restrict me from presenting certain subjects on which my research has been completed but I will save these subjects for a future monograph with F.A.S.

Would you therefore be kind enough to let me know whether the number of plates is flexible.

I hope to have the opportunity of meeting you at some future date.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr Newman.

Many thanks for your letter of the 29th I am very glad to hear about the subject which you plan to write about for the Bicentennial publication and I can assure you that the number of plates is flexible. I can on my own allow you one or two more plates, beyond that I shall have to discuss it with the members of the Committee. So please let me know, how many plates you require, and I shall do my best that you get them.

If you pass through New Haven sometime, I hope you will let me know.

Dear Norman:

A few days ago I asked to borrow a few Connecticut coins but, in the meantime, I find I need a few others to check and would appreciate it if you would look for those too. I would like to see:

1785 obverse 7(2)
1786 obverse 1(2)
1786 obverse 5(1)
1786 obverse 5(8)
1786 obverse 13
1786 obverse 15
1786 reverse 0
1786 reverse 0(?)

I do not need the reverse 0 as previously indicated.

I will very much appreciate your checking for these items as the information I will draw from them will go into my A.S.A. article.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Harold Ingels

Dear Mr. Ingels:

I need a little help from the Yale Numismatic collection in connection with the article I recently submitted to you on the Vermont coins. There are a few Connecticut cents I have not yet had the opportunity to examine and probably they are in the Yale collection.

I want to determine whether they are all from the same head punch and all from the same seated lady punch. They are:

1786 Miller obverse A(2), S(1), S(6), S(13), S(15)

1786 reverse C, S(2) and P.

In the past, Yale, on occasion, lent me coins for examination but if you have someone who knows die varieties intimately I could write them exactly what to look for if any of the above-mentioned coins are in your collection. I am enclosing an extra copy of this letter for your convenience.

I have written to my friend, Norman Bryant, who has a very large collection of Connecticut coins but have not heard from him yet.

Please let me know which of the foregoing Yale might have.

2. The plates will be with the text of the article not together with those from other articles at

Dear Mr. Sawyer:

I wish to thank you and your organization for your kindness in lending me two books from your library and a group of parades from your photographic library. All of them are being returned under separate cover. You were unable to locate plate 5470. This is not particularly important and if it ever becomes necessary to locate it I have a print of it which we could have rephotographed.

You have no idea how much this means to me in connection with my research and it, in a way, compensates for the extra work I would otherwise have to do because of my distance from eastern sources of information.

I have just finished my final revision of the technical publication and am waiting to hear from Dr. Dugdale with respect to the size of the plates. As soon as I hear I will make up the plates from the photographs on hand.

I am now returning to my work on the monograph for your organization which will, in all probability, take me another year to complete because I am writing on several papers at one time.

Before I prepare my plates for the article I submitted for the Centennial publication, I would like to know the size of the actual plate area which is desired and whether the plates will be with the text of the article or at the end of the volume.

The size of the publication was given in the original letter and appears to be larger than the monographs but there was no indication as to how much margin was preferred for the plates. Could you give me your thoughts on the foregoing.

I have sent my article to two other researchers and they have suggested certain additions and changes which, added to mine, will all be in the revised copy which will be forthcoming in due course.

Thank you for your helpfulness with respect to the Yale collection.

Thank you, very much, for the loan of the three 1786 Connecticut cents which I have examined and which are being returned herewith. These were very helpful in the confirmation of the facts stated in the paper I turned in for publication to Professor Ingholt.

One of my subsequent articles will require me to examine all of the 1786 Connecticut cents in the major collections of the country and I am wondering if you would be kind enough to forward those in the Yale collection to me for such examination. I am trying to prove that many of these Connecticut cents were actually made in New York, at Machin's Mills while the Connecticut mint was being used for the production of the Fugio coinage.

Any time it is convenient for you to send them to me will be satisfactory and although it may take some time for my publication to reach final form, I can assure you it will be something new.

Dear Mr. Newman:

We have discovered that Plate XXXIII is missing in the reprints that were prepared of your article from our centennial publication. We are notifying the printer of this circumstance, and will communicate with you further when we know what steps can be taken to rectify the error.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Moeser:

Your letter of May 10, 1958, pointing out that Plate XXIII was missing in the reprints of my article can be rectified in two ways. If the printer has extra copies of this plate they can be tipped in. If they do not we could have photographs made either of the printed plate or the original plate which I prepared.

In any event, would it be possible for you to obtain for me my original plates?

Cordially,

Dear Mr. Rosser:

In connection with the Centennial publication of the Society, I did not arrange for additional individual copies other than the 25 which you indicated would be sent to me.

There has been such an increased interest in American numismatics that I am wondering if it would not be wise to have additional individual copies of my Vermont article printed up if the printing has not already been completed. Would you give me your reaction to this situation.

Sincerely yours,

LEON C. MCGARIGLE

Dear Mr. Newman,

Due to Mr. Mosser's temporary absence from his office, I wish to thank you and acknowledge receipt of your two letters of May 12th. We are very happy to hear that you are pleased with the Society's Centennial volume and I will certainly call your comments to Mr. Mosser's attention when he returns to his office around the end of this month.

I am glad to inform you that our printer is working on correcting the error of the missing plate. I will have Mr. Mosser write you regarding the possibility of your obtaining your original plates.

Sincerely yours,

Raymond E. Main

Celotyppel Re: Centennial Volume-
Reprints

We have just received from the printer Plate XXXIII which is missing in the reprints of your article, but unfortunately without the caption. The plates were, therefore, sent to the plant in Germany for imprint and should be back here within another ten days.

This is just to let you know that the material will be shipped to you as soon as received here, and I appreciate your patience in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Henry G.

Dear Mr. and Mrs.

Thank you for your call and I am sorry about the writing on the 11. I wished I could've been there, but caused by the car accident - we visited Shirley's mom. I am sure they both would not care.

[ ] I have just obtained a copy of your article in the 1958
December edition. Your point of view is significant, but I think it has most interesting - a scientific work of its kind
I have seen to day.

I hope you will kindly let me know what you think of my article.

I will send you a mailing size book, because I have 100 or more in sections. I am enclosing one of the sections from the end of the book, which is the first section, page 10. It was written by Dr. C. L. Smith, a man living in St. Louis, Missouri. He is a very good man who always tries to explain things to people as plain as he can. He does a wonderful job in his book. He even uses graphs of some. It is very good. I am sending the information about the "Gardiner". This is not a well book.

I would like to say I thought he had a good amount of information, but I think he has a good amount of little that is not true. I wonder what you think of it in every view. If you would like me to mail the book to you, I can do that easily.

Very truly yours,

John P. Gilligan

Dear Eric,

Thank you for writing to request my list of Colonial coins and reference books.

I don't know how much help my list of reference books will be to you as it was geared to the novice collector to help them get started in the Colonial coinage area. The article in Coin World was misleading in that it gave the impression that I had a book on colonials available.

I would like to say how much I enjoyed your recent monograph on counterfeit British style halfpence in the recent Museum Notes. I might also add that your "A Recently Discovered Coin Solves a Vermont Numismatic Enigma" from the 1958 ANS Centennial Publication, is one of the most fascinating pieces ever written on Colonials. Should you ever come upon an extra 1776 Machins V.9-76B, I would certainly be interested in purchasing it.

If you have any questions on any of the coins on my list, please don't hesitate to drop me a note or give me a call.

Yours truly,

Don

for the purpose of making Vermont a crown dependency, coppers were wrought having on the obverse, 1, a

2, obverse, a bust of George III, legend, GEORGIVS III, VTS. reverse, a figure of Britannia, legend not intelligible. They were usually struck one British half-pennies"

figure on the Vermont body head (Lyder's) is less well drawn than the figure on the reverse of the Blistered head but shows the tail, the shading crudely cut, but the tail is drawn ~~badly~~ <sup>badly</sup> and the tail, the shading of the tail to the feet and the several proportions indicate that the same series probably <sup>was</sup> copied from the tail copper, ~~and~~ and the same piece used on the body head. The tail is bent to the rear at a different angle than the illustration. The tail is not <sup>as</sup> long as the tail on the tail copper, <sup>but</sup> the tail is wider, though <sup>as</sup> proportionately the same width as the tail copper. The tail copper is longer than the tail on the body head or Lyder's and <sup>also</sup> the proportions are not quite the same over the part.
